Foreword

Art . . . It is an elusive quality . . . easily felt . . . seen everywhere . . . sensed in all of life . . . yet, define it? Impossible . . .

College is filled with art. There is art in the aging buildings . . . the structures of new brick and shining steel . . . the serenity of the campus . . . each blade of grass, each towering oak, each bud in spring, all are artistic masterpieces . . .

There is art in the intangible . . . the hoarseness after a close football game . . . the drive of progressiveness . . . the thrill of learning . . . the look in a sweetheart's eyes . . . the warmth of friendship . . . the joy of winning . . . the disappointment of defeat . . . the pride of accomplishment . . . the devotion to your God . . .

Art . . . not just dabs of paint and oil deftly applied to canvas, no . . . being able to see life, to know life, to revel in just being alive . . . This is art . . .

D e d i c a t i o n

We gratefully dedicate this 1957 edition of the HACAWA to

GEORGE W. MCCREARY,

the masterpainter of all major Lenoir Rhyne publications.

As chairman of the faculty publications committee, he has exerted a watchful eye and a guiding hand, encouraging the Lenoir Rhyne journalistic outlets to assume their place of prominence within the campus activities.

Not particularly by guiding the brush strokes . . . but by supplying the easel, he has assumed the "giant behind the scenes" position.

It's all yours, "Mac"!

Dr. Voigt R. Cromer

To capture, to enhance, and to preserve a record of the beautiful, the precious, and the meaningful qualities of life is a noble work. Because the HACAWA seeks to do this, it serves a distinctive role in the unfolding of each college year. May this volume accent the purpose of your Alma Mater by demonstrating your appreciation of beauty, refinement, integrity, and truth. Our search for beauty should inevitably lead us to the beauty of holiness. Never let life become too hurried to find and contribute to its loveliness.

In the words of a saint of old I commend to you, "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report."

There is art in learning . . .

attacking eagerly the unfamiliar and conquering . . . becoming acquainted with the scholars of the past . . . preparing for the future ambitiously . . . striving to be tomorrow's leaders . . . knowledge is your most precious possession . . .

CLASSES

There is art in study . . .

the ticking of the clock as it nears midnight . . . the ash tray piled high . . . coffee stained cups . . . sweat on the brow . . .
quizzes . . . research themes . . . exam week . . . I passed!

Seniors . . . 1957

There is art in the last year—the Senior year.

This is the time of graduation with its bitter-sweet poignancy . . . of eager anticipation of THE day .

This is the time when the future looms so brightly before you . . . when there just isn't a moment to look backward.

This is the time filled with plans . . . of weddings, new vocations, new adventure, new friends.

The world is open—ready to be captured and consumed at a challenge . . .

There is art in the awakening of the junior year . . .

This is the time when the realization dawns that only one more year remains . . . where have the days vanished? . . .

This is the time to begin conscientious study . . . to delve deeper into the secrets of knowledge . . .

This is the time when responsibility must be assumed . . . the voting age, legal adulthood, independence . . .

This is the time when maturity stealthily arrives . . .

There is art in the adjusting of the sophomore year . . .

This is the time when familiarity is a friend . . . when strangeness has fled . . .

This is the time when it is a joy to be submerged in activity . . . extra-curricula, dating, parties, even study . . .

This is the time when the cares of life rest lightly on young hearts . . . when it is more important to be happy than to ponder serious thoughts . . .

This is the sophomore time—the time between facetiousness and concentration . . .

Rat Court in Session

There is art in the experimenting of the freshman year . . .

There is so much newness to be absorbed . . . a new schedule, a new home, new classmates, a new way of life . . .

There are so many questions consuming the mind . . . why am I here? What will I do here? What am I to become? . . .

There is an insatiable curiosity about life to be answered . . .

College presents problems, intrigue, stabilization . . .

There is art in the only year . . . the commercial year . . .

This is the time of sublimation . . . of abrupt change from care-free youths to responsible citizens . . .

This is the time of condensation . . . of filling one year with the contents of four . . .

This is the time of furious preparation . . . of equipping for unnumbered years in only one . . .

This is the time when brevity must suffice the future . . .

We really don't work here—we just came in to have our picture made.

We're really not working, but it looks good, doesn't it?

Artists in wisdom . . . painting on unmolded clay the richness of their experience, the visions of their own unrealized dreams, the blueprints of the future . . . always ready to share knowledge . . .
to exhibit a firm guide for the untried adventurer . . .

The Hall Commissions provide for companionable and harmonious living within the dormitories. Enforcing the rules and regulations of their jurisdictions, they maintain order among the campus students.

Men's

Commissions

OFFICERS

Entire Commission SHIRLEY KEATON
Schaeffer JANE BOST
Mauney JO ANN HAWN

Oakview INEZ SMITH

SHIRLEY KEATON
President

The Women's Hall Commission sustains a smooth routine in the women's dormitories. Their duties consist of locking the doors at night, inspecting rooms, enforcing rules, and calling house meetings.

Women's

Standing: Christiansen, Bost, Dayvault, Hedrick, Holshouser, Bowman, Hawn, Bostian, Summey, Lyons and Smith. Seated: Whitley, Todd, Overcash, Craven, Wingard, Lackey.

Student Government

Student government, the agency of campus democracy, completed a successful year under the leadership of president Paulwyn Boliek. The Cabinet advanced a more extensive orientation program for freshmen, gained physical education exemption for band members, sold Lenoir Rhyne blazers, and obtained an additional mail delivery for the dormitories.

The joining bond between the Administration and the Student Body is our Student Cabinet. Initiating and leading many student projects, it is our highest student authority. The Cabinet is responsible for upholding the rules and regulations of the college installed in our Constitution and serves as a court of justice.

Student-Faculty Commission

The Student-Faculty Commission designs the non-academic calendar, analyzes the social situation of the college, and passes such social regulations not provided for in the Constitution.

There is art in fun . . .

laughter resounding over the campus
. . . joy in "doing something" with the crowd . . . whether it's shouting exuber-antly at ball games . . . dancing dreamily at formal balls . . . "socializing" at parties
. . . or just congregating in the student center for coffee and bridge . . . thrilled with being young and alive . . .

ACTIVITIES

There is art in activity . . .

busily buried in the extra-curricula . . .
rehearsing a play . . . reporting for the newspaper . . . debating . . . club work . . .
vocalizing with the choir . . . developing wide patterns of interest . . .

Bears Meet Indians In Traditional Turkey Day Contest

Conference Title Hangs In Balance

LR SENIOR GRIDDERS

LA-CATERA RECORDS

One of the best football games in the history of the Lenoir Rhynean was played on Saturday, Nov. 11, 1956, when the Bears met the Indians in a traditional Turkey Day contest.

The Bears, who are currently in first place in the conference, defeated the Indians, who are currently in second place, by a score of 14-0.

The game was played at the Lenoir Rhynean stadium and was attended by a large crowd of spectators.

The Bears' victory was a significant one, as it gave them a 3-0 record in conference games.

The Indians, on the other hand, have a 1-2 record in conference games.

The game was a hard-fought one, with both teams showing great determination and skill.

The Bears' defense was particularly strong, holding the Indians to a field goal in the first half.

The Bears' offense was also strong, scoring three touchdowns in the second half.

The game was a great one for the fans, with many exciting plays and a dramatic finish.

The Bears' victory was a well-deserved one, as they have been playing very well all season.

The Indians, on the other hand, have been struggling a bit lately, but they still have a lot of potential.

Coach Stas' gridiron powerhouse led the way for 1956 to be a year long remembered by the loyal fans of the Bear Eleven. Paced by two All-Americans, fullback Harold Bullard and guard Arden Ray, the Bruins rolled over ten consecutive victories to make an easy capture of the North State Conference championship. Other climatic honors included: recognition as the nation's number two team in scoring among undefeated schools, the placing of eight men on the All-North State Conference squad, the selection of four Bruin hustlers on the All-State team—all to be topped off with Coach Stas named as coach of the year in North Carolina.

Undoubtedly, 1956 noted one of the proudest success stories for the Lenoir Rhyne Bears to go down in the annals of gridiron history.

Lenoir Rhyne 35 – Western Carolina 0

Western Carolina's Catamounts came to College Field, Saturday, October 20, with the intention of knocking off the undefeated Bears but instead left with a 35-0 defeat at the hands of the powerful LR eleven.

Paced by tailback Walt Cornwell, who scored twice and passed for another, the Bears tallied the first time they got their hands on the pigskin and again in the second quarter for a slim two touchdown first half margin.

Hal Bullard and Bob Miller moved the ball to the Catamount 14, from where Cornwell tossed a TD pass to end Frank Weber for the first score. Weber's blocked punt set up the second Bear touchdown. Dean Cline passed 28 yards to Miller on the WCC four and Cornwell carried over on the next play. Cornwell's brilliant 89-yard jaunt in the third quarter boosted the score to 21-0.

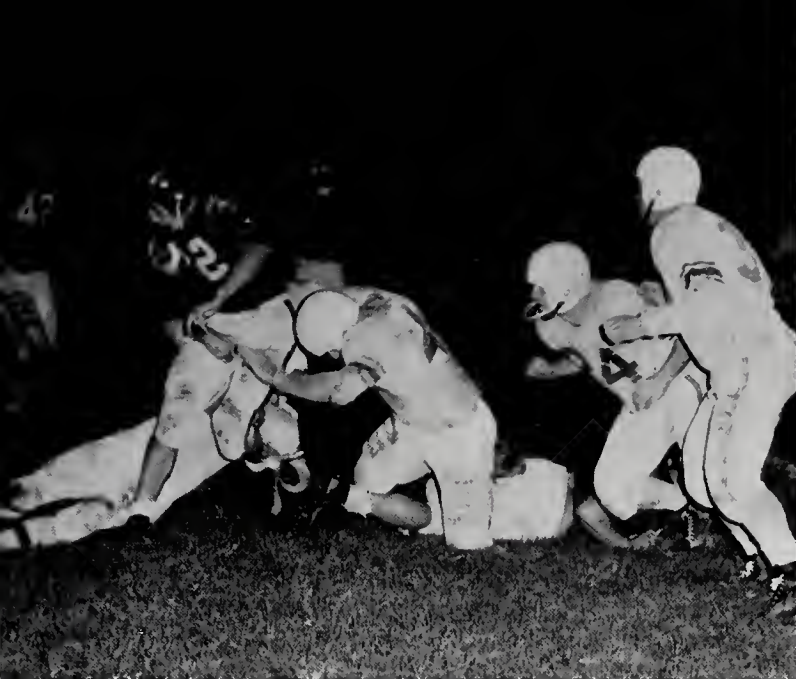

The Bears added insult to injury in the final period when Billy Page and full-back Jim Campbell scored two quick TD's. The final touchdown came after the Bruins recovered a WCC fumble on the 20 and Danny Williams passed to Dickie Foster for the score.

Lenoir Rhyne 57 – East Carolina 12

The Bears opened up with one of their most devastating offenses of the year when they trounced East Carolina, 57-12 on College Field, Saturday, November 3, before a near sellout throng.

Fullback Harold Bullard, aided by Dean Cline's two scoring passes, keyed the Bear win with four touchdowns. A powerful ground attack mixed with an accurate aerial game to completely outclass the visitors, who scored only twice against LR reserves late in the game.

The Bears wasted no time in their quest for victory number eight by moving 82 yards from the opening kickoff to paydirt on two long runs by Bullard and Walt Cornwell. Cline's 38-yard scoring pass to Bob Miller climaxed the drive.

Bullard tallied twice more in the first quarter. Bill Paige dashed 10 yards to score on the second play of the second period but the remainder of the first half showed little movement.

Second half TD's were scored in quick succession by Cornwell on a pass from Cline, Page, Foster and Bullard.

Great gridiron teams have come and gone in the North State Conference but none has been better labeled than the 1956 Lenoir Rhyne powerhouse juggernaut, which rolled to 10 consecutive victories and the conference title with little challenge.

The Bears received no post-season bowl bid; but Coach Stas and his assistants, Hanley Painter and Sid Wilson, molded together one of the greatest football elevens ever to hit the North State Loop. They set a new conference scoring record for one season by tallying 380 points and only once were held to as little as two touchdowns in a single contest.

Honors were heaped upon LR from all over. The Bruins received national recognition by ranking as the nation's number two team in scoring among the undefeated schools. The Bears placed a record eight men on the All North State Conference squad and four on the All-State team. Answering the All-American roll were fullback Harold Bullard and guard Arden Ray. Bullard became the first conference player ever to be named on Williamson's Mid-Bracket All-America team.

Pulling in All-Conference laurels for the Bears were Bullard, Cline, Cornwell, Collins, Sperotto, Captain Bill Dameron, Ray and LaTorre. Cornwell, Bullard, Collins, and Ray also achieved All-State honors.

To make it a clean sweep, Bullard was named the loop's most valuable performer, and Stas was named coach of the year in North Carolina.

Statistic-wise, the Bears placed high in national NAIA ratings with an average of 280.7 yards rushing, 106.5 yards in the air, and a total offense mark of 387.2. Bullard paced the league in point production with 16 touchdowns and in ground yardage with 1075.

The Bears opened the 1956 season with an expected easy 67-0 triumph over an outmanned Newport News Apprentice School eleven. Bob Miller made his debut at tailback against the Shipbuilders and tallied four TD's. Ronnie Hoffman raced 75 yards for one score, but the regulars saw little action in the final half as Coach Stas cleaned the bench.

The following week, Lenoir Rhyne experienced its toughest contest of the campaign, edging Wofford, 13-7, on the Terriers' home field. Freshman tailback Bill Rhodes emerged as the hero, bulging five yards for the winning marker with 40 seconds left on the scoreboard clock.

The "battle of the Lutherans" was staged the next week at Newberry with the Bears coming out on top by 35-25. LR ran up a 35-7 margin on the running of Cornwell and Bullard, but the Indians scored three quick touchdowns to narrow the final margin.

Bullard hit his 1955 form against arch-rival Appalachian to lead the Bears to their first conference victory, 32-0. He gained 136 yards on the ground and scored twice. Cornwell aided in the LR attack with 112 yards rushing. A capacity crowd saw the Bears rack up 243 yards on the ground and 108 via the air while holding the Apps to a virtual standstill.

Guilford proved easy prey for the Bruins the following week, Lenoir Rhyne romping to an easy 61-7 win. Out of this game came one of the football oddities of the year. LR scored 16 points before the Quakers could run a play from scrimmage! Bullard ran wild against the home-standers, gaining 170 yards in 14 carries while frosh wingback Dickie Foster picked up 109 yards on the turf in but four totes.

L. R. returned home the following week to battle the Western Carolina Catamounts and romped to a 35-0 victory although the Cats were expected to be strong. The Catamounts outgained LR on the ground but never threatened to score as the tough Bear forward wall refused to give ground. Quarterbacks Cline and Williams combined to give the Bruins a devastating aerial attack.

Homecoming came to a brilliant climax when the Bears topped previously unbeaten Emory and Henry, 25-6, before a sellout crowd. The Wasps battled the Bears to the limit during the first half, but an 80-yard dash by Cornwell proved to be the damaging blow. Bullard and Cornwell ran wild in the final half to give the Bears the win.

The Bears turned in their best performance of the season thus far the following week by trouncing a good East Carolina eleven, 57-12. The Bruins mixed a bulldoing ground attack with a brilliant aerial offensive to humiliate the Pirates.

It was a cold night in Burlington the following week, but the Bears remained hot to capture their ninth straight win over Elon, 27-13. Bullard put on an amazing first-half display of running and ended the night with 150 yards and two touchdowns. His understudy, Campbell, replaced him in the second half and continued to torment the Christian line.

The Bears climaxed a great season with an amazing display of power against their bitter rivals, Catawba, on Thanksgiving Day at Salisbury. Before a capacity crowd of 8,500 the Bears fought off two early game Catawba rallies to win 28-0. Bullard went over the 1000-yard mark against the Indians by gaining 170 yards and scoring on runs of 75 and 47 yards. Cornwell tallied on a 32-yard jaunt while Collins and Sperotto were brilliant in the LR defense.

Certainly it was one of the greatest seasons for any team in the history of the North State Conference. As one opposing coach put it, "Lenoir Rhyne just didn't have a weakness. They could run through you or pass over you and their defense was great."

The 1956 Bear cagers again proved to be one of the powers of the North State Conference, finishing the season in a two-way deadlock for second place. However, they dropped the tournament championship contest to Elon in an overtime thriller.

Paced by All-American Raeford Wells, Coach Jim Hamilton's boys turned in the best school won-lost mark on record, winning twenty while dropping but five. Wells continued his torrid scoring pace for the third consecutive year, dropping in 612 points in 25 tilts, to pull in All-Conference honors along with the now-departed Bob Ortmeyer.

Lenoir Rhyne opened the 1956-57 hardwood campaign with a 90-86 loss to Belmont Abbey but then proceeded to win nine straight through the Appalachian contest.

After losing to the Crusaders, the Bruins topped Newberry, Pfeiffer, and the Abbey in succession in non-loop contests. Then they traveled to the East to open their 1957 conference slate on a surprising note, beating both East Carolina and Atlantic Christian on their own home courts.

Veterans Walt Cornwell, Tommy Sellari, Frank Cline, and Johnny James aided Wells in the early season victories with a trio of freshmen coming along in the later stages—forwards Ken Norman and Harland Bowman and guard Eddie Goodnight.

With unexpected help from the frosh ranks and the great improvement of the returnees, the Bears entered the North State tournament as one of the top outfits and were given a good chance to beat any team on a given night.

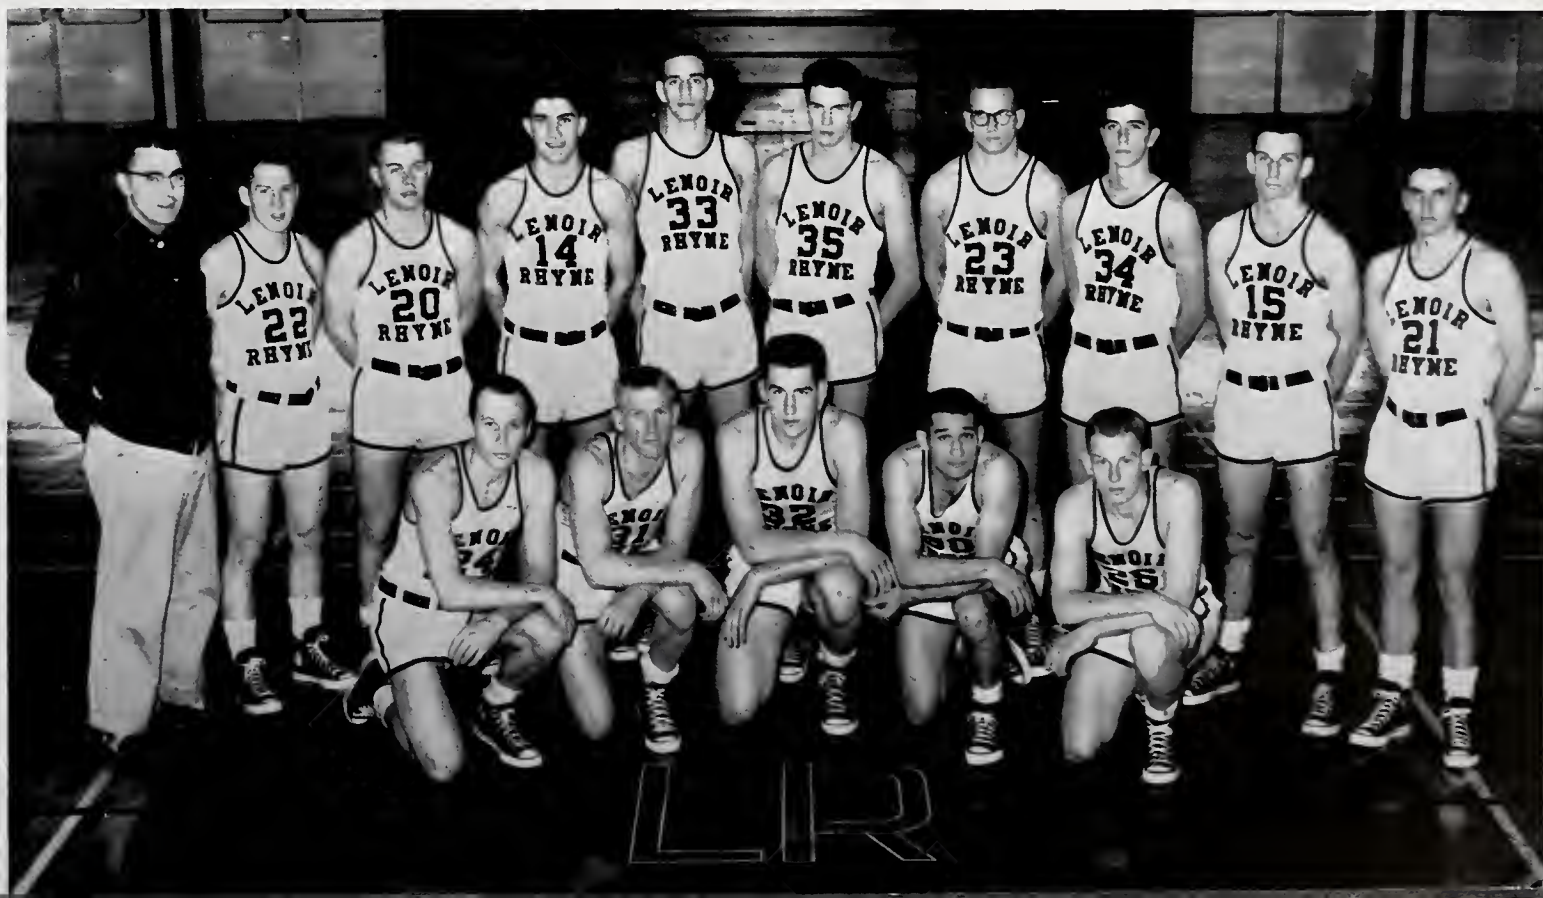

The Bears played their final seven home games in their new gym, the Shuford Memorial Gymnasium, which seats 3,660 spectators comfortably. The new gym offers LR's cagers one of the finest basketball plants in North Carolina for years to come.

Success indeed favored the 1957 hardwood court Bruins, who climaxed the season with a 24-game winning streak and both the North State season and conference tournament championships.

Coach Mac Erwin, in his final year as Bear diamond coach, guided his '56 baseballers to one of their most successful campaigns in years as they barely missed the North State title on the final day of the season. The Bears went into that contest needing a win to cop the crown but Elon's Christians upset them to hand East Carolina the championship with a 10-3 record compared to the Bears' 9-3 loop mark.

Paced by the hitting of Walt Cornwell, Jim Kimmell, Ralph Carswell, Jerry Fox, Buzz Peeler, and Billy Johnson and the pitching of Raeford Thomas and Peeler, the Bruins compiled a 13-9 record overall. Cornwell, who pulled in All-State laurels, led the hitting with a .400 average. He also pounded out five home runs and collected 20 RBI's to pace the team in those departments. Other .300 hitters for LR were Peeler with .387, Carswell with .329, and Fox with .319.

Thomas turned in a 6-2 mound record and Peeler a 5-3 mark to bear the brunt of the hurling chores.

New baseball coach Hanley Painter is expecting a strong squad this spring and with a little pitching help will be rough to handle. He lost only Joe Buff, Kimmell, and Peeler off the '56 nine and has a power array of lefthanded hitters returning, including several fine frosh prospects.

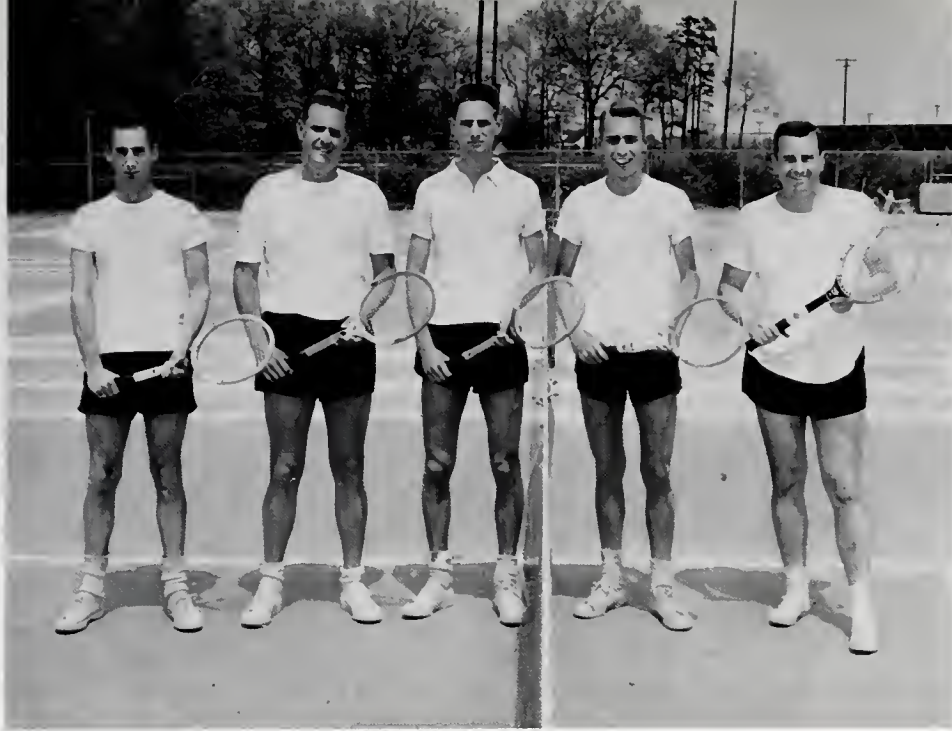

Second row: Foley, LaTorre, Moore, Austin, Fisher, Little, Sifford, Moose, and Cline. First row: Moore, Garrett, Steel, Phillips, Hoffman, Murphey, and Miller.

Track

An accompanying sign of spring on the local campus is the sight of Coach Bill Brandon as he fires the gun signaling the beginning of track season. In keeping with the L. R. athletic department the trackmen have constantly made a fine showing at the annual North State track meet in High Point. With numerous lettermen returning to participate indications are that 1957 will be a highlighting year for aspiring Olympics.

Tennis

The Lenoir Rhyne netmen, with two returning lettermen, met stiff competition in the North State League and failed to win a team victory during the 1956 campaign. Although many of the matches were close and hard-fought the racquet squad could not find a winning combination.

Even though the team failed to capture any team victories, each man on the six man team earned a letter by winning a single match in Conference play.

The outlook has taken a bright appearance as the 1957 season approaches. With three lettermen returning and with several seasons of apprenticeship under their belts, the Lenoir Rhyne squad appears to be ready to taste from the cup of victory.

Intramural

*Sigma Phi Epsilon—Team Champions
Theta Chi—Volleyball Champions*

*Sigma Phi Epsilon—Football Champions
ITK—Basketball Champions*

The intramural program at Lenoir Rhyne once again enjoyed a very successful year. The program, under the direction of Coach Mac Erwin, assistant football coach, consists of three major sports and five minor sports. The major sports are football, basketball, and softball and the minor sports are volleyball, ping pong, badminton, tennis and horseshoes.

The intramural championship is decided by a point system. Under this system points are awarded to first, second, third and fourth place teams in each sport. The major sport winner and placers receive 200, 120, 80, and 40 points respectively; while 100, 60, 40, and 20 points are awarded the minor sports. When the program is completed each team totals its points for the year. The team with the most points is declared champion.

Teams which were in the program this year were: Sigma Phi Epsilon, Theta Chi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, I.T.K., Fritz Hall and Highland Hall.

Champions

Sigma Phi Epsilon took an early lead in the race as it won the football championship. Theta Chi won badminton and Sigma Phi Epsilon, ping pong. I.T.K. took tennis and Theta Chi, softball and horseshoes. The final sport of the year was won by Sigma Phi Epsilon.

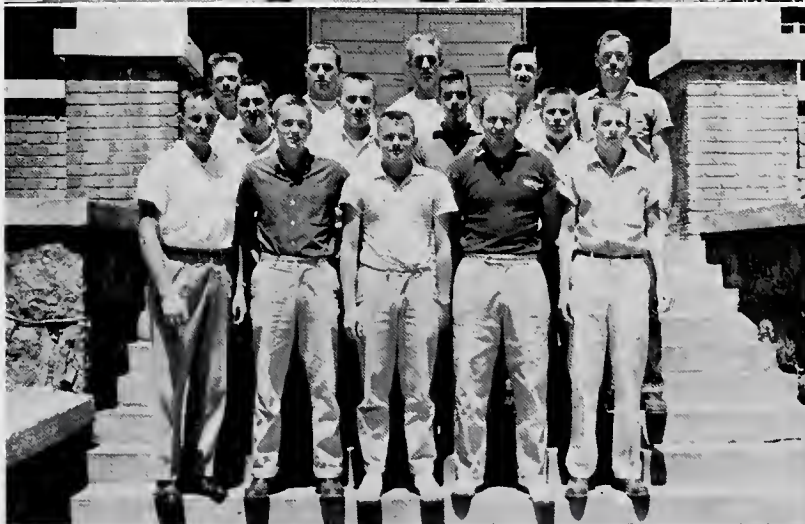

Sigma Phi Epsilon, winning the intramural championship, made it their third straight year as champions. Theta Chi finished in second place for the second year in succession.

Some of the outstanding performers in this year's intramural sports were Robert Dasher, Vernon Hedrick, Mac Brawley and Butch Simms for SPE; and Harris Green, Lowell Roof, and Mike Hinshaw for OX; Buzz Peeler, and Keith Troxler for TKE; Harold Bullard and Frank Webber for ITK; Jim Graham and Jim Vellutato for Fritz Hall and Leveo Sperotto and Bill Johnson for Highland Hall.

The LR Club

The Lettermen's Club has as its primary purpose the fostering of wholesome athletic interests to the end that Lenoir Rhyne College may be served, in ways that will contribute to its cordial relationship with other institutions, to a more general student participation in athletic activities, and to a sense of personal obligation on the part of every member in offering to his fellow students an example of the ideals for which the Club stands.

Co-Ed Sports

The W.A.A. represents a group of the fairer sex who refuse to let sports fade out of their lives. Under the direction of Dr. Clyde Deans, basketball, volleyball, deck tennis, soccer, shuffleboard, and table tennis make up part of the activities of the organization. The sports program is encouraged because through it a girl develops physically, mentally, and socially.

Kappa Chi

Kappa Chi Fellowship of Christian Service is an organization open to all male students who enroll at Lenoir Rhyne and express an interest in Christian service. Its primary purpose is to benefit the lives of future ministers and lay workers. The Wednesday night devotions and programs are aimed at improving the student's Christian growth and providing Christian fellowship.

Hand in hand with the YWCA, Kappa Chi helped make the freshmen at home with an open house last fall, entered a float in the homecoming parade, and furnished buses for the Christmas carolers. Kappa Chi has supplied a regular Sunday School teacher for a local church.

Religious Council

The Religious Council is the unifying organization of all religious groups on campus. It is composed of three representatives from each religious group and three advisors from the Department of Religion. The Religious Council sponsored Religious Emphasis Week, conducted monthly Student Services, supported a war orphan, managed the Campus Chest, and led a drive to raise money for a Hungarian student.

"Tau Kappa Epsilon stands for men" is another motto of which TKE is proud. Giving it a vote of confidence, TKE men strive for the most complete personal development of their members, intellectually, physically, and socially.

The Lenoir Rhyne Tekes are proud of their past accomplishments and of their close fraternal harmony. Looking back over the past year, they cite numerous moments with the men as "moments to remember" . . . The popcorn stand at the fair . . . the nineteen-member pledge class . . . sweat and worry over a winning Homecoming float entry . . . the purchase of the Tekemobile . . . securing the Teke victory bell . . . the return of Buddy Morrow for the "Carnation Ball" . . . and . . . The aims and ideals of Sigma Phi Epsilon are high. The purpose of the fraternity is to create and encourage perpetuation of friendship among men and to develop character and to maintain a high moral standard among her members. The fraternity also stresses work along the scholastic, athletic, and social lines. To impress upon its members the true significance of fraternal relationship and to aid and sustain the institutions at which her chapters are located are other primary objectives of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Reminiscing about the good times with the men, they can look back on fond recollections . . . the parking lot at the fair . . . Theta Chi men believe that their constant aim should be to do all that they are able, collectively and individually, to strengthen the moral, spiritual, and social development of their fellow brothers and themselves. Founded on simplicity and true fraternal companionship, the aims of the fraternity are to promote fraternization among her brothers, to promote scholastic achievement in studies, to promote social-cultural training in her brotherhood, to encourage athletic participation on the part of her members, and to encourage forensic participation for her members. Outstanding in the KSK Code of Conduct is the obligation of the brother to endeavor to reflect the human qualities which he and his fraternity hold paramount—integrity, loyalty, gentlemanly conduct, social poise, physical fitness, and leadership.

The '57 Kappa Sigs note as highlights of the year . . . the sparkle of the "Silver Bells" dance . . . the original prize-winning Homecoming float, "Stairway to Victory" . . . The HACA WA staff has tried to capture the year of 1956-57 and enclose it between the covers of this book, so that the memories of this special time in youth will never die. As the years pass, you have only to open your HACA WA to relive life as it only is at Lenoir Rhyne. Those hectic hours of unmet deadlines, no copy, very few pictures, and frantic visits from the engraver seem remote and can be smiled upon now as we glance through the pages of the "child of our genius."

If only we had had "The Money Tree" in our backyard none of the miles of walking, hours of talking, selling, collecting, sometimes pleading would have been necessary. How many times did we say "Take a little ad at least . . . thank you, sir . . . yes, sir, I'll be more than happy to come back in two weeks . . . just make it out to the HACA WA" . . . Then while we sat back and rested our calloused heels, the HACA WA '57 went to press debt-free!

In the HACA WA '57, we have presented Lenoir Rhyne in the aesthetic sense — shown that art lives everywhere . . . in the world around us, in our associations, in ourselves . . . We hope we have imparted to you this idea of the hidden beauty in your everyday world . . .
